THE STRIKERS CONFIDENT.

The Iron Workers of Homstead Are Certain That They Will be Victorious.

The Executive of the Federated Labor Unions Meets the Advisory Committee.

A Statement to be Issued Showing the Exact State of Affairs at Homestead.

HOMESTEAD, Aug. 13.—The executive committee of the American federation of labor arrived at Homestead at 11 o'clock this morning and are now closeted with members of the advisory committee. "We find greatly to our pleasure" said President Gompers to a representative of the United Press "that the Homestead men are in splendid condition and that everything points to a glorious victory." An open meeting will be held here this afternoon and this evening the committee will meet and the chances are that a statement will be drawn up and given to the press outlining the position and presenting to the world the exact situation at Homestead. This morning a teamster from Braddock began transferring household goods belonging to the Union Steel Works, from the ferry to one of the company's houses near the mill yard on Eighth avenue. He was stopped by a crowd of strikers who ordered him to turn back with his load, but he refused them. Half an hour later he returned with an empty wagon and was again stopped by 10 or 12 men. The leader of the crowd said, "If we catch you here again we will break your head. We will not permit any man to bring scab's goods into this town. No white man would be guilty of such a thing." The driver moved on, however, unmindful of the man's epithets flung at him. Over 200 non-union men occupied rooms in the company houses back of the Carnegie hotel last night. The houses were closely guarded and the occupants were not molested.

Mexican Women's Appeal.

RIO GRANDE CITY, Mex., Aug. 13.—A touching appeal was forwarded from here to-day to President Harrison at Washington. It is signed by several hundred Mexican women, living on this side of the border, who ask the President's clemency for their husbands, their brothers and their sons who have been arrested for alleged complicity in the Garza revolution. The petition sets forth that secret agents of the Governor of Texas arbitrarily searched the houses of Mexican residents, arrested male members of the family and dragged them to jail, on the charge of being confederates of Garza, when in fact they have no sympathy with the man.

National Honors.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 13.—The body of the late Charles W Riggin, boatswain, killed in the Valparaiso riot, is lying in state this afternoon in Independence Hall, directly under the old Liberty bell. The doors were thrown open at noon and a waiting crowd of several thousand persons filed in past the remains. The body was not exposed and the throng had to be content with viewing the casket and the handsome decorations. National flags and purple hangings cover the walls of the chamber.

Prominent Merchant Dead.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—Andrew Crawford, one of the best known shipping merchants on the coast, died of heart disease this morning. He was sixty-three years of age. Crawford was the first Californian to send a vessel to the southern seas and through his exertions, the carrying of the French mail to Tahiti was secured to this port.

Heins, superintendent of the Chester Heights camp meeting association was struck by the Philadelphia and Baltimore Central Railroad train at Chester Heights shortly before 7 this morning and killed. He lived at 199 Lombard street, this city, and was on his way to the station to take the Philadelphia train when he was killed.

Railway Accident.

The engine remained on the bridge. Engineer Brown was badly injured about the head and will die, the fireman had his arms broken and two tramps on the train were killed.

THOMAS EDWARD WATSON,

The Georgia Congressman Who Stirred Up the House of Representatives.

Representative Watson, of Georgia, who by his charge of drunkenness has so effectually stirred up Congress, was born in McDuffie county, September 5th, 1856. At an early age he started to earn his own living, his father being a poor farmer. At the age of 14 he became clerk to Mr. T. E. Messengale, afterwards Senator, and studied sufficiently to enter the freshman year at Mercer University, Macon. After working hard to get through college, he was admitted to the Richmond County Bar in 1875. He was a member of the Georgia Legislature in 1882 and 1883, and was elector for the State at Large for the Cleveland ticket in 1888. He ran for Congress against Major George T. Barnes, being also in sympathy with the Farmers' Alliance. Since then he has gone over completely to the Alliance, who nominated him for the seat he now holds. Mr. Watson is married and has two bright children at his homestead in Georgia. His book contains 378 pages, and bears the title "Not a Revolt, It is a Revolution." The two passages to which most objection was taken were these:

The congress was pledged to reform, they have not reformed. Pledged to economy, they have not economized. Pledged to legislate, they have not legislated. Extravagance has been the order of the day. Absenteeism has never been so pronounced. Lack of purpose was never so clear—lack of common business prudence never more glaring.

Drunken members have reeled about the aisles, a disgrace to the republic; drunken speakers have debated grave issues on the floor, and in the midst of maudlin ramblings have been heard to ask, "Mr. Speaker, where am I at?"

When Mr. Watson was called on to give evidence before an investigating committee of the House he hardly substantiated his charges. His statement was: "I saw two members of the House reeling on the floor during the silver fight, and during the Noyes contested election case I saw a member addressing the House in a state of maudlin intoxication." The majority report of the committee said that three and probably four members had appeared on the floor more or less under the influence of liquor, but none in the condition described in the charges. The committee declared that the charges made by Mr. Watson were not true and constituted an unwarranted assault upon the honor and dignity of the House and had the unqualified disapproval of the House. Mr. Grout, Republican member of the committee, submitted a report fully concurring in the finding of the majority that Mr. Cobb was not in a state of intoxication while discussing the Noyes-Rockwell election case and saying that the charge that "drunken members have reeled about the aisles" is wholly unsupported by truth. He thought that in view of the facts brought out by the investigation, Mr. Watson should withdraw the offending statement. Representative Simpson (Farmers' Alliance) submitted a minority report dissenting from the views of the majority and exonerating Mr. Watson. He quoted from the testimony of the Alliance members and others before the committee in support of his (Simpson's) contention that Mr. Watson's charges had foundation in fact. The majority report was of course adopted by the House.

H.M.S. WARSPITE'S INJURIES.

The Damage to the Flagship Alleged to be of a Serious Character.

In response to queries by telephone to the dry dock office this morning it was ascertained that the injuries to H. M. S. Warspite caused by scraping a rock in Discovery Pass yesterday were considered so slight as not to call for inspection by divers. The Quadra will come out of dry dock on Monday and the Warspite will then go in and have a thorough overhauling and cleaning. The great warship was not leaking to any noticeable extent to-day, thus proving, according to the dry dock office, that very slight damage was done.

From another source it was learned this afternoon that the injuries to the vessel are much worse than at first supposed. Several of the stout steel ribs, it is alleged, were crushed in, the steel plates wrenched off and torn, and that only the water tight bulkhead prevented the ship from settling deeper into the water. An examination by the ship's divers was to be made this afternoon and the full extent of the damage ascertained. It is expected that their report will disclose a startling state of affairs below the water line. The shock, when the Warspite struck the rock, was sufficient to completely check her way, and cause her to tremble in every part. Such a shock, according to marine men spoken to to-day, could only result one way—seriously injuring the bottom of the ship.

MR. BLAKE COMING HOME.

He Will Speak at Newcastle-on-Tyne for Mr. Morley Before Sailing for Canada.

The Dominion Cabinet Ministers Hold a Meeting in Montreal Yesterday Afternoon.

The Third Time Since Confederation That the Cabinet Has Met in Montreal.

TORONTO, Aug. 13.—The Globe's cable says, Hon. Mr. Blake has decided to sail for Canada by the Parisian on Thursday next. Before his departure he has promised to speak for Mr. Morley at Newcastle-on-Tyne, at a meeting to be held on Monday, which will be Blake's first acquaintance with a popular English assemblage. Mr. Blake does not expect to remain long in Canada but will return to England about the middle of autumn.

THE CHOLERA'S MARCH

Has Reached St Petersburg—31 Deaths in 10 Days.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 13.—That the cholera is now here is officially admitted. A report just issued shows there were 54 cases and 31 deaths in the city between August 1st and 10th. Thus far only the working people are attacked, the conditions under which they live being favorable to the disease. They passively resist the endeavors of the authorities to improve the sanitary condition of the city dwellings. Some of the wealthiest residents are preparing to leave the city.

STRUCK THE ROCKS.

H.M.S. Apollo Knocks a Hole in Her Bottom —Narrow Escape.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Her Majesty's twin screw cruiser Apollo struck the rocks off Berehaven yesterday and narrowly escaped loss in collision with the Naiaid. A terrible loss of life was only averted by the coolness and promptness of the captain of the Apollo. The Apollo has a great hole in her bottom and her machinery is crippled. The Naiaid has twenty tons of water in her aft compartment and otherwise is seriously damaged. But for the double bottoms both vessels would have sunk. The cruiser Arethusa has left Queenstown to assist the disabled warships.

VANCOUVER REGATTA.

A Constant Downpour of Rain To-Day—Invited to Winnipeg.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 13.—The rain this morning continued without cessation. A meeting of the Regatta Association was held this morning and it was decided to go on with the races under any circumstances. At the present time it looks as if the men might row in the air.

The Vancouver Lacrosse Club yesterday received an invitation from the Winnipeg Street Railway Company to play in the Winnipeg tournament, offering free transportation. The matter is under consideration.

Rev. J. Baston has resigned the pastorate of Mount Pleasant Baptist church. He goes to Brantford, Ont.

J. Adair, charged with assault upon a little girl, got six months at hard labor.

The injunction issued against the city for the purpose of restraining it from paying the Union Steamship Company $400 for carrying the city officials to Victoria on the contempt of court summons, has fallen through, the applicant to pay the costs.

A contract for 50,000 feet of sewerage work was let to-day. The lucky ones are Potter & Flett, 21,557, $22,000; Boyd & Clendenning, 19,993 feet, $20,090; and McQuarrie & Co., 8129 feet, $7540.

A CABINET COUNCIL.

Third Meeting in Montreal Since the Tory Riots of 1854.

MONTREAL, Aug. 12.—For the third time since confederation, a council meeting of the Dominion Government is being held in Montreal to day. In fact, with the exception of Provincial Government meetings, this is the third time any cabinet of ministers has assembled in this city since the burning of the parliament buildings in 1854. The Ministers are Sir John Abbott, presiding, Sir John Thompson, Sir A. P. Caron, the Hon. Messrs. Chapleau, Ouimet, Tupper, Carling, Dewdney, Costigan, the only members absent being Hon. Messrs. Patterson and Smith. The meeting began at 10 o'clock this morning at Sir John Abbott's Sherbrooke street residence. The reason why it is held in Montreal is that Sir John Abbott is not in the best of health and does not feel equal to going to Ottawa, besides Sir John Thompson, Mr. Tupper and Mr. Chapleau were in the east and Montreal was more convenient for them. The meeting lasted till evening, all the ministers taking lunch at Sir John Abbott's house.

A committee has been formed to prepare a reception to the officers and men of the Arethuse and the Hussard, the two French war ships which are to visit Montreal at the end of this month.

The Congo Country.

BRUSSELS, Aug. 13.—While the Government doubts the report from the Congo Free State, that the Arabs are sweeping the country along the Upper Congo, it is taking measures to concentrate its forces at Basok camp, and establish a post at the confluence of the Lomami and Congo rivers.

Robert Frotheringham, of Ottawa, but at present mining near Golden, is stopping at the Hotel Victoria.

QUIETNESS IN COAL MINES.

Another Shaft Temporarily Closed—Mysterious Disappearance—Lime Lost.

NANAIMO, Aug. 13.—The disappearance of an individual known as "Peanut Charlie" has called forth many theories by those who were in the habit of patronizing him. Some style his disappearance as "mysterious," but others think that he has taken a quiet trip to some place, although he is generally looked upon as a confiding fellow. All his outfit is still in the little stand, patiently awaiting the arrival of its owner.

No. 3 shaft of the New V. C. Co., was closed down last night for an indefinite period. There were not many miners working in this mine, and those who have thus been thrown out of employment will probably be taken on in No. 1 shaft in the course of a few weeks. The coal trade in Nanaimo shows no signs of improvement, and it is expected matters will stand thus for another couple of months. At present there are only two vessels in the harbor, and one of these sails to-day.

Yesterday morning the contractors for the Davidson block received a large consignment of lime, and as the scow was to be unloaded quickly so as to get away before the tide receded, the lime was loaded on to another scow, which was already well laden with rock. The consequence was that the latter sank and the lime becoming wet, exploded and scattered all over the Inlet in that particular part. Many barrels of the lime were lost.

Nothing further has been learned of the whereabouts of Mrs. Fitzgerald, of Comox, and it is now surmised she has become a prey to a panther or some other animal. Search parties have been out but their attempts to discover a trace of the old lady have been unsuccessful.

Real estate is now quiet in the city, and owners are holding back with the expectation of realizing bigger prices next year. The agents are therefore the only people who are affected in the matter.

To-day is the regular pay-day of the New V. C. Campany, and the miners are laid idle. The pay to-day is not so large as the previous one, and it will be November before it reaches its usual figures.

Prosperity Grove U.A.O.D. will give a grand banquet in the Occidental hotel on Friday, Aug. 19th.

A banquet is to be given shortly to the members of St. Paul's church choir by Mr. J. E. R. Lagar. The event will probably be given in St. Paul's Institute and will be followed by a dance.

The Victoria City Band will not play at the Victoria Gardens to-night on account of the rain.

The mud around the corner of Johnson and Store streets, and in front of most of the buildings where material is piled on the streets, was very deep, and caused untold criticism by foot passengers to-day.

Persons writing to their friends abroad from this city can now rest easy in knowledge of the fact that the letters are not punctured full of holes and made to stink dreadfully of sulphur. That process has been abandoned.

JUVENILE VAGRANTS.

A Girl and Two Boys Before the Court This Morning.

Nellie Davis, a rather good looking quarter-breed girl of 17 years of age, Walter Petancourt, 14 years of age, and Jeff Nibby, a half-breed boy of 15 years of age, were arraigned before Magistrate Macrae this morning charged with being idle persons having no permanent place of abode, and no visible means of support. Nellie Davis admitted she was a street-walker and the court after giving her some kindly advice sentenced her to pay a fine of $10 or go to jail for one month.

The two boys who were found at the foot of Johnson street, sleeping on a bed made of straw and sacks, beneath a part of a boat's cabin, pleaded not guilty to the charge. They stated that they sold bottles and managed to get at least a meal a day. Petancourt had a house, but was scared to go there because he had been robbed of 40 cents while in swimming. Nibby was formerly a companion of young VanHorst, and had not much to say for himself. The boys were dismissed with a lecture and a promise of the reformatory if they did not amend their ways.

John Brady was madly drunk on Cormorant street yesterday and admitted the offence, stating that he must have been "doped" as he had $115.40 before he began to drink and when locked up he had not a cent. He was fined $10 or 14 days. Another drunk paid the usual $5.

Wm. Mable paid $5 for an infraction of the thistle by-law, and Joseph Phœnix, convicted of the same offence, gave notice of appeal, claiming that the city by allowing thistles to grow on its streets was the cause of these weeds maturing in his garden. A similar charge against Thomas B. Childs was remanded for a week, the defendant not being in the city.

MAKING WAY FOR GLADSTONE.

Gossip About the Formation of the New Cabinet—Tory Schemes.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The members of the Cabinet met at noon, and formally agreed to resign. At 5 o'clock this afternoon Lord Salisbury left on a special train for Portsmouth, whence he will embark for the Isle of Wight. His destination is Osborne House, where he will tender to the Queen his resignation of the Conservative Ministry.

The greatest interest is exhibited in the formation of a new cabinet. It is believed that Sir Charles Russell will elect to be Attorney-General again, and it is now admitted on nearly all sides, although the Telegraph is of a contrary opinion, that Lord Rosebery will take charge of Foreign Affairs. Sir William Vernon Harcourt will probably be Chancellor. It is believed that Hon. Edward Blake will receive some recognition, provided his inclinations and pledges do not stand in the way. Mr. Blake's colonial experience would make his assistance valuable in framing a Home Rule bill as well as on important questions relating to the colonies. Labor will probably receive some recognition. Mr. Gladstone would doubtless have preferred Mr. Broadhurst, but as that gentleman fell outside the breastworks, a selection will have to be made from some of the other labor members. The Liberal lord will of course be represented, although Mr. Gladstone has lost two valuable associates in Lord Granville and Lord Dalhousie, both members of Mr. Gladstone's last administration and both now dead. Lord Carrington, Lord Brassey and Lord Houghton are all mentioned in connection with the new cabinet. The Irish members naturally feel the deepest interest in the Irish Chief Secretaryship, for which Mr. John Morley is booked, and the Conservatives and Liberal Unionists do not conceal their satisfaction at contemplating what is in store for Mr. Morley. The Liberal leaders do not hesitate to express the opinion that the Tories are planning to make Mr. Morley's office as uncomfortable as possible, and that there is a deep design in placing a regiment of constabulary in Tipperary at this time. The neighborhood is quiet, and there is neither complaint nor outrage. It is believed that Smith Barry, who has been re-elected to Parliament and is on the closest terms with Mr. Balfour and other Tory leaders, will soon after Mr. Morley takes office begin enforcing his legal rights in an irritating manner at Tipperary, and call upon the authorities to sustain him. If, with a regiment of police at New Tipperary, Mr. Morley should refuse to sustain the enforcement of the law, then a clamor would be raised that the Liberals were in sympathy with anarchy and hostile to law and order in Ireland. It is expected that at the best Mr. Morley's position will be embarrassing.

The Daily Chronicle (Liberal) says the single effective point Mr. Chamberlain made in his speech was that Mr. Gladstone would hold office for six months without defining his policy. Had an autumn session been conceded, as advised, Mr. Chamberlain must have cut from his speech all of its most damaging passages. Until the new Ministry meets the House next session, no man dare say it is seated firmly enough to govern the country with authority and vigor. Until Gladstone brings his Home Rule measure forward, it would be idle to ignore the fact that his majority is heterogeneous.

The Pall Mall Gazette (Liberal) says: Gladstone's triumph is Parnell's also. Twenty years ago Parnell had not even entered Parliament. Before he died he had converted nine out of every ten Irishmen against revolutionary methods. The effect of the division is irrevocable. Difficulties and delays in Home Rule there may be, but its final adoption is now inevitable.

The St. James Gazette (Conservative) under the caption of "Leaping into Darkness," says: The Government was ejected by the majority simply going it blind for "the Grand Old Man" and a half understood idea. If disaster result—increased taxation, malignant bickerings with France, a disgraceful retreat from Egypt, an open breach with Russia in Central Asia, and renewed outrages and rioting in Ireland—the country has itself to thank.

IDAHO RIOTERS SENTENCED.

Judge Beatty Finds Them Guilty of Contempt of Court.

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 11.—United States District Judge Beatty this afternoon held that eleven of the Cœur d'Alene rioters were guilty of contempt of court in violating the injunction served upon them restraining them from interfering with the mine owners in the operation of the mines. Judge Beatty sentenced the prisoners to terms ranging from four to eight months. Ten of the men who had been on trial were discharged.

The men were held and their terms of imprisonment are as follows: Thos. Eaton, John Fitzgerald, Dan Harrington, Hugh McGee, John Nicholson, Gus Peterson and Thomas Whalen, each six months; R. Robinson, four months, and Joseph Poynton, eight months. Thos. Doyle was held, but sentence was not passed, as he was absent because of sickness. Thomas O'Brien, President of the Miners' Union, was held but sentence was deferred pending the hearing of the Bunker Hill & Sullivan. It is understood that an appeal will be taken, and that an application for a writ of habeas corpus will immediately be made to Justice Field. Judge Beatty, in rendering his decision, passed upon several interesting points. He said the question of diverse citizenship could have been raised in the original proceedings. It had been so raised, the restraining order had been so issued with no such showing before the court, and that the order partook of the nature of a criminal statute, violations of which are tried by the federal courts without regard to the citizenship of the parties. On the question of service the court said that it was not essential that each party should be served. It was only necessary that they should know that the injunction had been issued. Neither was it necessary that the parties should have been named in the restraining order, that order having been issued against the Miners' Union, their aiders and abettors.

Judge Beatty stated that labor organizations were entirely lawful in the abstract, but that the lawful character of a particular organization must be measured by its acts, and not by its by-laws and constitution. The acts of the Cœur d'Alene Miners' unions showed that they were of an unlawful character. A strict interpretation of the law would render each member liable for the acts of the organizations, and the court continued:

"There is no doubt that under this well-defined principle of law, I could hold all the defendants who are members of the union. I will not, however, apply that rule, but will endeavor to determine the connection of each of these respondents with the occurrences at the Frisco and Gem mines on July 11."

The court then proceeded to analyze the testimony as to the participation of each of the defendants in those occurrences, with the result that has been given.

Piracy and Murder.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—The brig Galilee from Tahiti this morning brings a story of piracy and murder. The schooner Niuiloati was sold by the king some time ago to a syndicate, which loaded her with various kinds of merchandise and gave the captain $60,000 in cash, with which to trade among the islands. The cook, who was a Kanaka, was induced by Rodique, a passenger from one of the islands, and his brother to put poison in the food of four of the crew, who were also Kanakas, and all died. One of the brothers then shot and killed the supercargo, named Gibson, and the other shot and killed Capt. Casptellar. The brothers then took possession of the schooner and went to Ascension Island. Here the cook demanded money and upon being refused told the story to the authorities. A Spanish man-of-war thereupon seized the schooner and placed Rodique and his brother in irons and took them back to Tahiti.

To Repel a Mob.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 13.—H. Clay King, the Memphis murderer, who was committed to the penitentiary for life, has not yet been assigned to work. Dr. Morrow, sublessee of convicts, said to-day that King would not be required to work, as his physical condition would not permit it. Although the penitentiary officials do not credit the rumors of a mob coming from Memphis, which were circulated on the streets last night, the warden thought it well enough to be prepared for an emergency. Fifty pounds of dynamite were placed across the court, leading from Church street to the main entrance of the prison, to which was attached an electric battery, and the whole could have been exploded at a moment's notice. There were also 30 guards inside, all armed with rifles and revolvers. The Memphis train came in as usual, but there was no mob on board. The precautions proved to be entirely unnecessary, as not the least sign of a mob or disturbance of any kind was visible at the prison during the night. Governor Brown has denied that he has signed a petition for the commutation of King's sentence.

The Proposed Naval Review.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—It is understood that all the new warships on the Pacific coast, except the Monterey, will be started around in this direction, to reach here for the great naval review in April next. The State Department has acted promptly in the provision in the Naval Appropriation Act, authorizing the President to issue invitations to foreign naval powers to participate in the naval review in Hampton Roads and New York harbor in April. Invitations have already been prepared and are being sent out to every country possessing the semblance of a navy. This is all that can be done formally until acceptance is noted from the countries invited. It is presumed that all the nations making any pretensions to having a navy will be present, and, acting on this presumption, the naval authorities are going ahead with the preparations of the programme. An additional appropriation will be necessary to pay the extra seamen required for new ships and for the entertainment of the visitors. Half a million is little more than sufficient for the construction of the caravels now building in Spain. Rear-Admiral Gerhard said yesterday that he was to have charge of affairs, and it was the purpose of the department to have all available vessels participate, including those now on foreign stations.

The Behring Sea Case.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The State Department has practically completed its preparation of the United States contentions in the Behring Sea case and the manuscript has been sent to the printers. Upon its return copies will be sent to the Secretary of State for Home affairs of Great Britain in accordance with the terms of the treaty. Senator Morgan, one of the arbitrators in the controversy, had a consultation with Secretary Foster at the State Department to-day.

Smallpox Spreading in New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—So many cases of smallpox have appeared in the city during the past three weeks that the health authorities fear that there may be a general outbreak of the disease during the coming fall unless energetic measures are taken. The infected districts have been divided into twenty sub-districts, and a sanitary inspector had been assigned to each of the latter. Three additional cases of smallpox were reported to the bureau of contagious diseases this afternoon.

SMOKE BALLS TO CURE GRIP.

How a Woman Won $500 Damages From an English Company.

A decision is reported by the London Times from the Court of Queen's Bench, which should overwhelm the souls of many astute Americans with remorse at the thought of neglected opportunities, and which may well transfer the palm in the art of making money from New to Old England. A firm or company published an advertisement which offered to give £100 to any one who should have the influenza after buying and using one of the company's "smoke balls" according to the printed directions supplied with the ball three times daily for two weeks. On the faith of this advertisement a lady bought one of these balls and used it, as directed, from Nov. 20th till Jan. 17th, 1892, when she was attacked by influenza. Thereupon her husband wrote to the smoke-ball company, stating what had occurred, and in reply received a printed circular which contained a proviso that any person who proposed to compete for the £100 must come to the company's office three times a day and use the smoke-ball under its supervision. This circular, however, was treated by the aggrieved patient, and subsequently by the court, as ex post facto, and she brought her action for £100 against the advertising company. The defendant pleaded that there was no contract, and if there was it was not stamped and could not be sued on, that it was a wagering contract and therefore void, and that it was a contract of insurance which was prohibited by statute. But the court held that there was a contract, for there was a consideration received by the company in the price of the smoke ball, and the court added that daily use of the article was sufficient to support the promise of remuneration. The defendant had not only issued the advertisement, but had stated as "showing their sincerity in the matter" that they had deposited £1000 in bank, which the courts held must be taken as meaning that they were prepared to pay. The contract was also held not to require a stamp, nor to be a wagering contract, nor such an insurance contract as was regulated by statute. The circular requiring attendance at the company's office was proved not to have been brought to the plaintiff's attention till after her cause of action had accrued, and as she proved that she had duly used the smokeball, she had judgement for £100, with costs, which in modern English practice are of dreadful magnitude.

The comments of the court upon advertisements of this character, which are, perhaps, as offensively prominent in this country as in England, are very judicious. It observed:

"It may be that of the many readers of the advertisement very few of the sensible ones would have entertained expectations that in the event of the smoke ball failing to act as a preventive against the disease, the defendants had any real intention to fulfil their attractive and alluring promise; but it must be remembered that such advertisements do not appeal so much to the wise and thoughtful as to the credulous and weak portions of the community, and if the vendor of an article, whether it be medicine, smoke, or anything else, with a view to increase its sale or use, thinks fit to promise to all who buy or use it that to those who shall not find it as surely efficacious as it is represented by him to be he will pay a substantial sum of money, he must not be suprised if occasionally he is held to his promise."

As it is notorious that the proprietors of patent and "quack" medicines accumulate great wealth, it would seem that a field of profitable exploitation was open to the speculative attorneys in this country, for the law here upon such a point as was involved in this case can hardly be different from what it is in England. All judgments recovered by them under similar conditionswill be as welcome to the public at large as to their deluded client, and a few such judgments would greatly raise the standard of veracity and deceney in "remedial" advertising.

Ask Your Friends

Who have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla what they think of it, and the replies will be positive in its favor. One has been cured of indigestion and dyspepsia, another finds it indispensable for sick headache, others report remarkable cures of scrofula, salt rheum and other blood diseases, still others will tell you that it overcomes "that tired feeling," and so on. Truly, the best advertising which Hood's Sarsaparilla receives is the hearty endorsement of the army of friends it has won by its positive medicinal merit.

ABOUT THE LONDON FOG.

How It Becomes Loaded With the Great City's Poison.

Contemporary Review.]

It is not necessary to describe the misery of a London fog to anyone who has been compelled to reside in the metropolis during a few day of its prevalence. The painful irritation to the eyes, the choking sensation in the chest, together with the general depression of spirits and many other ailments, are the lesser sufferings that few who are exposed to it escape. But it is not yet realized what an amount of serious illness or how many deaths one week of London fog causes. It may be accepted that every 10 days of this terrible visitation kills 2500 people, and if we calculate nine serious cases of illness to one death we have 25,000 people laid upon beds of sickness.

To a certain extent the cold that always prevails during these dense fogs may be credited with a portion of this sickness, but not to any great extent, as neither fog nor cold in country places produced any such change in the death rate. There can be little doubt that the extreme discomfort, as well as the deadliness of the London fogs, arises from the poisonous gases with which the damp air gets saturated, and increasingly so the longer the fog lasts. The smoke which gives the fog its yellow appearance, and is so dirty and unpleasant, is not injurious, being only carbon; probably, indeed, it prevents the poisonous gases from doing more harm.

The fog, it is needless to say, is caused by atmospheric conditions, which keep the lower stratum of the air comparatively stationary and prevent smoke from rising, as it ordinarily does, even when there is no wind to move it. Consequently, the air in our streets remains to a great extent unchanged during the prevalence of a thick fog, but it by no means remains in the same state, for the gas generated in the 2500 miles of sewers is rising through the grids and mixing with the air, which is also being corrupted by the emanations from the millions of men and animals that live in the metropolis.

It is difficult to realize how foul must be the condition of the air Londoners breathe after two or three days of fog, and the wonder is not that so many are sick and so many die but that so few do so. The poisonous fog so deteriorates the vigor of life that, in addition to its directly injurious influence, it renders the system incapable of resisting the cold. To prevent these fogs seems impossible; the draining of marsh land would possibly do something to mitigate them; the discontinuance of the use of open fires, or the general use of smokeless fuel, would make them less unpleasant, but they would remain as poisonous as ever.

No Other Sarsaparilla possesses the Combination, Proportion, and Process which make Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar to itself.

WHY THIS MEEKNESS?

Dr. Davie went up to Vancouver to insist on certain things being done in regard to the smallpox visitation, but he came back apparently leaving at least one of these things undone. This is the suggested removal of the Moodyville and Hastings cases to Deadman's Island, so as to leave only one centre of infection in the whole Vancouver district. Dr. Davie and a good many other people have regarded it as advisable that this step should be taken, but the Vancouver Council said it should not be taken, and Health Inspector Huntly so notified Dr. Davie in an exceedingly sharp manner. It might have been supposed that Dr. Davie would have enforced his authority, but this he has not done, the cases remaining just where they are "until the new hospital is completed." It is surely not an edifying spectacle this of Dr. Davie's majesty being set at naught by the Vancouver aldermen, and even getting "sassed" by a mere health inspector. Why did the Autocrat not come to the Doctor's relief in this matter? He should have got his factory to work to grind out another set of "health rules" squelching the contumacious Vancouverites. These might have been called the Amended Amending and Emphatically Declaratory Health Rules, and after enumerating a suitable number of "whereases," they might have satisfactorily rubbed down those Burrard Inlet gentlemen. Since the Premier-Czar has set himself forward as all-powerful in these matters, it would seem that he has missed a grand opportunity in not issuing an ukase dealing with this case. It cannot be that the Vancouverites convinced Dr. Davie that he was wrong, since they are not possessed of the power of working miracles. There must therefore be some other cause for Dr. Davie's unusual display of meekness, which we suppose will remain a mystery.

THE BRITISH VIEW.

The London Chamber of Commerce Journal in reviewing the work of the recent Congress speaks of the preferential trade proposal in a manner that cannot be at all encouraging to Sir Charles Tupper and his disciples. The Journal may fairly be taken as representative of British commercial opinion on the subject, and it cannot be accused of wishing to place the matter in a false light. Here are the Journal's remarks:

Broadly speaking, the colonial views expressed at the congress were in favor of the establishment of a free-trading Empire with differential duties against non-British nationalities. The English view on the other hand, was that the colonies would best attain their end and concord with the views of the Mother Country by the adoption of a free trade policy. The colonial answer to this suggestion was that such an arrangement was not sufficiently favorable to the colonies, as the Mother Country gave this treatment already to all States, whether colonial or foreign. The colonial representatives showed a tendency to ignore that the Mother Country had already, by abolishing duties, given the most preferential treatment which it was possible to attain, but apparently the colonial dissatisfaction with this method of procedure lay in their desire to be sole participators of such treatment to the prejudice of foreign countries. It was represented, however, by some colonial interests, that the adoption of differential treatment in favor of, say Canada, would be highly prejudicial to those of other colonies, such as the Straits Settlements, which are placed in direct competition with colonies of other nationalities, and the representative of the Straits Settlements, speaking on this question, pointed out graphically that the British possessions, under a system of free trade, had advanced and developed remarkably, whilst the contiguous French possessions, under the opposite system, had languished even to the extent of finding themselves forced to obtain their supplies, in spite of differential duties and bounties, from the English colony. The elucidation of this fact gradually led up to the demonstration of the colonists that the abandonment of free trade in favor of the colonies would effect a much larger area of trade than they appeared to realize. They practically asked Great Britain to place three-quarters of its trade, namely, its trade with foreign nations, under differential treatment, in favor of the remaining quarter, which is, in rough figures the amount of our exchanges with the colonies. When the discussion reached this stage it became apparent to the colonial representatives themselves, that the question of differential treatment would require some reconsideration in regard to its bearing on British trade with foreign countries before it could be dealt with as a practical proposition.

The summary of the situation presented in the last two sentences no doubt accurately voices British opinion, and this being the case it will easily appear to any observer that there is small hope of changing that opinion, at least in the immediate future. The preferential tariff scheme is, in short, impracticable, since those who control Great Britain's trade policy distinctly declare it so. The declarations of the congress are, on the other hand, quite in the line of the amendment offered by the Liberals to Mr. Neill's preferential trade motion in the House of Commons. That is to say, Canada can practically discriminate in favor of Britain by removing or lowering the duties now imposed on goods imported wholly or chiefly from Britain. This would at the same time relieve the people from some of their tariff burden and to some extent carry out the declaration by the congress in favor of "securing closer commercial union between the Mother Country and her colonies and dependencies." The present Government and Parliament of Canada will not do this, because they are dominated by the manufacturers' ring, and said ring is inveterately hostile to anything that savors of free trade. The Red Parlor has offered no objections to the preferential tariff scheme and the Tory reciprocity scheme because it knew that both were chimerical and impracticable; but any proposal that does really mean a move against its monopoly is treated very differently.

"SEEKING AFTER A SIGN."

The Colonist is still seeking after "information" in regard to the by-law authorizing the borrowing of $75,000 to cover the smallpox expenses. We cannot help thinking that it is not so much information as a chance to embarrass the civic authorities that the Colonist wants. It would no doubt please our neighbor mightily to be able to defeat the by-law and thus put the Mayor and Council in another "hole" at the end of the financial year. This would give the Colonist's beloved master the Premier a chance to issue one more royal commission and sit again in judgment on the Corporation of Victoria. But the Colonist answers itself, inasmuch as it avers:—"It is evident that they (the Mayor and Aldermen) do not know whether the expenditure will be forty, fifty, sixty or seventy thousand dollars." Precisely, and in the absence of the necessary knowledge they ask the ratepayers for power to borrow whatever sum they may need up to $75,000, being all but certain that this amount will suffice. If a smaller sum than $75,000 is needed then the smaller sum will be borrowed. As to why the civic authorities do not know the exact amount they may need the explanation is extremely plain and simple. The Colonist must be aware that the bills are not all in yet, and cannot be all in for some time to come. Moreover, the Ross Bay bills are, pace the Colonist, in so muddled and confused a condition that their aggregate cannot be ascertained for some time. This is due to the meddling interference of the Provincial Government, and not to any fault of the Mayor and Council. The civic authorities do not know, and cannot be expected to know until the trouble is all over, what the expense will be, and in the meantime the by-law has to be submitted to the people. It is to be hoped that the latter will not be induced by the Colonist's malicious rantings to defeat it and thus pile up fresh difficulties for themselves.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Goderich Signal comes out as a vigorous advocate of political union with the United States, which it takes to be the only way of relief open to Canadian farmers. It is apparent from the utterances of the Signal and other Ontario journals that the annexation sentiment is growing in that province, for a few years ago these same papers would have been found denouncing the idea had it been openly advocated. It is to be feared that the present hardships and political complications are fostering a similar tendency in Quebec. Now this sentiment is largely born of despair, and evidently the best way of correcting it is to remove the causes of that despair. The Tory Government has confessed itself incapable of improving the situation that has given rise to this movement, therefore the Government should be got rid of as soon as possible.

A dispatch from Toronto quotes the Empire as saying: "Of course the Government has to weigh the whole question of our relations with the United States, and to decide what is best, under the circumstances, for the whole community; but, for our part, we should regret the withdrawal of the rebate now. It would bear all the appearance of yielding to pressure what was refused to a simple request of the Washington authorities. The Government, however, has the whole responsibility in the matter, and will doubtless decide as seems best for the general interest." This is very different in tone from the utterances of the chief Government organ a few days ago, and evidently foreshadows the backing down of the Government. If the abandonment of the Canadian position looks like a yielding to pressure the blame lies with the Ottawa people, who did not know enough to appreciate the situation without a little coercion.

"WATT'S THE MATTER" WITH THE FALLIBLE POPE?

TO THE EDITOR:—Some people who are in the habit of judging others by themselves believe that others may do what they might do themselves. Mr. Pope, in his last letter, charges me with untruthfulness; in his first letter he insinuates that four or five other gentlemen were untruthful, and why? Because it would be such an easy matter for Mr. Pope to be untruthful himself, or to use his own phraseology, "take his cue from others."

If Mr. Pope did not fear vaccination because it would hurt him, I am glad to know it, but he certainly gave me to understand that he did. I can remember perfectly some of the words that he used, and I am prepared to take my oath that he said: "I object to vaccination because I suffered so much last time." He was evidently at that time a weakly "stripling," with disordered blood, and could not stand a little pain in his arm for a week or so. Mr. Pope is perhaps now in a state when the operation of scratching his arm would not hurt him. He did not say that it would, nor did I say that he told me so, but he did say in effect that the vaccination would hurt him, and by that I understood that he could not stand the pain when the vaccination took. His reason then for refusing to be vaccinated I still maintain was an unheroic one.

In conclusion I would like to state that I do not care to discuss medical subjects with a man who receives his mental pabulum and ideas from cyclopedias and so forth.

A. T. WATT, M.D.

MAN'S INGRATITUDE.

TO THE EDITOR:—I presume you have never heard how Dr. Davie came to practice medicine in this province in the first place. Well after he came to this province and grew up a young man he managed to pick up a knowledge of medicine and surgery through the cases which came to his father. After this he went to California and attended the college there, which after some three years study gave him a diploma. As might be expected, the California medical college was a rather one horse affair in those days, and it did not require much of an effort to prejudice the people against it. The old English doctors who were here soon realized this. Young Davie had no longer his father to fight his battles for him, he was without means or influence, he had only an American diploma and seemed an easy mark for the old medical Tories, who were very influential. A bill was introduced into the Legislature in the interest of the old doctors and for the purpose of shutting Davie out. Among the people who come to reside in this province since the time of those stirring scenes very few know anything about the fate of that bill or how nearly it became law. But it was defeated, and defeated entirely through the efforts of the Hon. Robert Beaven. As he has often done since, he then sided with the under dog in the fight. One of his colleagues in the Government of the day was Dr. Ash, a strong supporter of the monopolistic measure, but that did not prevent Mr. Beaven from standing up for the helpless though promising youngster. Dr. Davie was allowed to practice here and has continued to do so with fair success. To-day when he has arrived at years of discretion I feel pained to observe him direct his mature insolence towards his old benefactor. If there is anything I abhor from my inmost spirit it is ingratitude of that kind.

No Business Done.

The shareholders of the Victoria and Sidney Railway Company met this morning but did not dispose of any business as certain arrangements had not been completed. The next meeting will be held on the 22nd inst.

Shipping Beer.

Last year Victorians were importing beer from the Sound cities. This year they are using home brewed beer and ale besides sending a large amount to the mainland and other parts of the Island. The Pheonix Brewing Co., have received an order for a carload of bottled beer to be sent to the interior, and the Victoria Co., are in receipt of a similiar order.

To be Revived.

The Trade and Labor Club which has been allowed to languish during the last few months will be shortly revived and the working men will before the winter come on have a place to spend their evenings. It is expected that a real lively body of gentlemen will take charge of the institution and make it one of the best places of the kind in the city.

From the North.

The steamer Cariboo Fly arrived at Vancouver yesterday morning with the first lot of the Royal Canadian packing Company's salmon pack. She brought down between 3000 and 4000 cases. She will continue running until she has brought down the whole pack of 12000 cases. She leaves this port next Monday for the Skeena as per advertisement in another column.

Prompt Payment.

Mr. F. J. Claxton, secretary of the B.C. Fire Insurance Company, has received a letter from Hon. D. W. Higgins, president of the tramway company, acknowledging the receipt of $2000, in payment of the loss under the B. C. Company's policy. The writer expresses his satisfaction at the promptness with which the company settled the loss. The amount was ordered paid at the first meeting of the directors since the fire.

An Instance.

The effect of the late "unpleasantness" on the business of the city has had many illustrations. The following is from a private letter written by a San Francisco wholesale firm to a merchant in this city: "Since sending you notice of an early visit by our Mr.——, we were informed by the authorities that at present your territory is quarantined on account of the smollpox disease raging, which prompted us to postpone his trip until such time when he may be permitted to canvass your territory undisturbed."

Albert Head Quarantine.

The plans approved by the Minister of Agriculture for a deep water wharf at Albert Head quarantine station provide for a wharf to accommodate vessels 600 feet long. It is to be built on the bulkhead principle, with a large space in the centre, and is to be fitted up with modern disinfecting apparatus. The plans are now in the hands of the department of Public Works, so that if there is not more than the usual amount of delay and red tape the wharf and the appliances may be available for use some time next year.

Arranging the Details.

The directors of the B. C. Agricultural Association met in the office of the secretary last night to discuss the plans for the approaching exhibition. The Jockey Club's offer to superintend the refreshments at the grounds during the fair was accepted. The tramway company will be asked to inform the the association when the cars will commence running. Entries will close on Saturday evening, September 24th, the exhibition days having been fixed for Sept. 27, 28, 29, 30, and Oct. 1st. Another meeting of the directors will be held next Thursday evening.

A Heavy Fine.

A Port Townsend dispatch says: E.A. Wadhams, manager of the Anglo-British Packing Company, Ladner's Landing, British Columbia, paid into the custom house to-day $1400, which was the amount of the fine imposed by Collector Wasson on the British steamer Winnifred, for violating the American navigation laws. The steamer was detected near Blaine last week taking fresh fish from aboard sloops without having first made entry at the sub-customs port. She was seized and fined. The steamer has been allowed to return to British waters.

After a Lengthy Submersion.

Last evening the steamer North Star was towed into harbor and tied up at Spratt's wharf. Last January the North Star was wrecked near Albert Head while engaged in a missionary voyage among the various harbors of the coast; she ran ashore in the night, filled and was abandoned. Fortunately the place where she ran aground was well sheltered and the sea had not much chance to injure her, so that she is very little the worse for wear to-day, except as to the engines, which are thickly rusted. The Albion Iron Works have taken charge of the boat and will put the engines into condition for work. The bottom is very little damaged, a plank or so having been sprung by straining, but admitting only a small quantity of water. She will be ready for business about September 1st.

Losing no Time.

Mr. John Teague, architect, is calling for tenders for the erection of a new power house for the National Electric Tramway & Lighting Company. The tenders have to be in by noon on Saturday the 20th inst. As soon as the contract is let work will be proceeded with.

The Loafing Habit.

The old "kick" about men congregating around the corners of Government and Yates streets is renewed. A business man said to-day the nuisance not only exists in the evening, but during business hours, and is very objectionable, especially to ladies. The Chief of Police must see that some other place is found for men to loaf besides under the verandahs at the corners of the principal streets.

Adjusters and Arbitrators.

Messrs. Thomas and Lowe, of San Francisco, arrived last night, the former to adjust the loss of the tramcar company. The latter is an expert electrician and will also assist in arranging a settlement. Captain Thompson, steamboat inspector, has been appointed an arbitrator to represent the insurance companies, and Andrew Gray, of Spratt & Gray to represent the tramway company.

An Old Song Now.

There are now no cases of smallpox in or around Victoria and the patients at Jubilee Hospital will be all ready for discharge next week. There were a few of them who were reported seriously ill a day or two ago, but latest advices showed them to be now on the fair way to recovery. All the suspects have been liberated from Ross Bay station and the place is undergoing a thorough course of fumigation. Whether the building will be torn down or not is as yet undecided, but the probabilities are that it will. It is expected that Dr. Davie and his aides-de-camp will find their temporary occupation gone before the month's end.

To Survey the Timber Limits.

The steam schooner Mischief, Captain Pettit, has been chartered by the L. H. Northy syndicate for the purpose of a survey of the lately acquired timber limits of the syndicate, purchased from the W. P. Sayward Mill Company, and situated at Hesqueeaht Point, near Nootka Sound, on the west coast of the island. The Mischief will leave this evening about 6 o'clock with six members of the syndicate, including Messrs. L. H. Northy, Carmody and O'Farrell. She will be gone about a week. Preparatory to the trip the cabins of the Mischief have been thoroughly overhauled, altered and enlarged, so that the capitalists will be able to enjoy the trip in comfort. The Mischief steams about seven knots an hour and is an excellent sea boat. There is some talk of erecting a mill at Hesqueeaht if conditions there are found suitable.

New Loan Association.

The Standard Loan & Savings Association, of Toronto, has appointed a local board of directors for Victoria and prepared generally for doing business here. The local board is made up as follows:—President, H. B. W. Aikman; Directors—Henry Gribble, S. M. Hartman, L.D.S., Jas. H. Falconer, S. Jones, jr., and T. J. Jones, L.D.S.; solicitors, Drake, Jackson & Helmcken. At a meeting of this board held last evening arrangements were made for the opening of offices and the commencement of operations. The Standard is a strong company, with a good reputation. Its capital stock is $5,000,000, divided into 50,000 shares of $100 each, ordinary prepaid and full paid stock. Its directors report that it has done $400,000 of new business since the 1st July last year. They claim that their plan of co-operation is a good one, and the local board expect to transact a large loan and savings business in Victoria.

Made a Clean Sweep.

Dr. McNaughton Jones, Dominion health inspector for the port of Victoria yesterday received an official notification from Ottawa instructing him to appoint Captain Laurenson and Engineer Nevitt to the Dominion government disinfecting steamer Earl, in place of Captain Patterson and Engineer John MacCallum discharged. No reason whatever is given for the dismissal of Messrs. Patterson and MacCallum, who have been officers of the vessel since she was built, and are first class men in their several departments. The rest of the boats' officers and crew will be replaced by the appointees of the new captain and engineer, making a clean sweep of all on board. The Earl is now in commission as the Dominion disinfecting boat and will be ready to inject the sulphur fumes into the hold of the next Empress, due in a few days from the Orient. A trial of the machine made upon a vessel in the harbor on Thursday proved that it is in good working order.

THE QUARANTINE RAISED.

Doctor Conover Raises it To-Day After Receiving Consul Myers' Report.

He Wanted Particulars Before he Would Sanction the Board of Health's Action.

Yesterday afternoon the Washington State Board of Health raised the quarantine, which has for the past month been declared against British Columbia. Dr. Conover, the United States quarantine officer, however, refused to sanction the board's action, and, therefore, the quarantine remained as it was before the meeting of the board.

Last evening Mr. Levi W. Myers, the United States consul, received a letter from Dr. Conover asking for an official statement in reference to the smallpox. The doctor told Captain Clements, of the North Pacific, that if the consul's report was satisfactory he would raise the quarantine.

Consul Myers sent the following report, so it is probable that the quarantine will be raised, in which case the steamer City of Kingston will be on her route again to-morrow.

CONSULATE OF THE UNITED STATES,
VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA,
AUGUST 12 1892.

Dr. S. B. Conover, M. H. Service, Port Townsend, Washington—

SIR,—I have yours of this date making enquiries as to the present status of the smallpox epidemic recently existing in this city, and the honor to reply as follows:

I take the provincial health officer's figures as to the number of cases, and having intimate knowledge of the circumstances, believe them to be correct.

There are new no cases in the city, outside of the hospital, and it will be 14 days to-morrow since a case has occurred in the city. There are in the hospital 53 cases, nearly all in mild form, and most of them fully recovered and ready to be discharged. But one death, that of a babe, has occurred in the hospital, for 10 or 15 days. The streets and alleys have been cleaned, the sewers disinfected by the usual methods in such cases, and the health officers are watchful and determined to deal efficiently with any new appearance of the disorder.

In my judgment the public would not be endangered by the raising of the quarantine and the opening of unrestricted intercourse with the ports and cities of Puget Sound.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,
LEVI W. MYERS, Consul.

THE QUARANTINE RAISED.

The following dispatch was received this afternoon:

PORT TOWNSEND, Aug. 13.—Quarantine raised against British Columbia today.

OFFICIAL REPORT.

PORT TOWNSEND, Aug. 13.—The quarantine against British Columbia was discontinued at 12 o'clock to-day.

MORE SAILORS KIDNAPPED.

They Are Taken From Their Schooner at Gamble and Sent to Victoria.

Six sailors, H. Sanson, F. W. Wedin, B. Jones, M. Williamson, Ed. Lerad and John Elkman arrived over from the Sound on Thursday evening and yesterday afternoon called on Consul Myers. They are non-union sailors and claim that while on board the four-masted schooner Robert Lewis, which is loading lumber at Port Gamble, they were forced to leave by the Seamen's Union. They say that at 2 o'clock on Thursday morning 30 union men boarded the schooner, forced them out of their bunks and took them to Port Townsend, where they claim the union men promised to pay them what the schooner owed them and then find them work on a union steamer so that they could get back to San Francisco. At Port Townsend they were kept in the union office and only allowed out when taken to meals. During the day the union men told them they would have to come to Victoria to get their money and obtain work on a ship for San Francisco. They were accordingly put on the steamer North Pacific and came to Victoria, being furnished with a note to Tom Ellis, of the Pacific Hotel, Victoria. Not being able to find Ellis they applied to Consul Myers for assistance. The consul immediately began correspondence with the proper authorities.

Officers Elected at Last Evening's Meeting—Other Important Business.

McDonald; Secretary, Arthur Dutton; Treasurer, James Colvin, and Sergt.-at-Arms, Frank Wall.

A communication from the Pacific Coast Federation of Unions was read, asking the council to join that body. They claim a membership of 40,000 and think that the union workingmen of Victoria would be benefitted by joining the organization.

There was some discussion on the subject, the outcome being that the council decided not to take any action until full particulars were obtained. The secretary will endeavor to obtain the particulars and lay them before a future meeting of the council.

A letter from the Nanaimo labor day celebration committee was read inviting the council to take part in the celebration on the 20th inst.

Mosquitoes Afraid of Camphor.

Mosquitoes have almost as strong an objection to camphor as moths, and if a little camphor is burned in an iron spoon or vessel it will keep a room practically clear from insect pests. From time to time specialties are brought out and sold as mosquito and fly scares, but the camphor principle is strong in them all and does its work very well.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

VERNON.

The miners at Fairview are petitioning to have county court held there every sixty days.

Several more mineral claims have been staked off on the Swan Lake quartz ledge during the past week.

The Fire valley trail has been entirely completed, Mr. T. Christien having made 20 miles, including four bridges, at a cost of $1500.

The race track is being got in shape for the fall races, which will be held on the last two days of the O. & S. Agricultural Society show.

Messrs. Ross and McBeth returned on Thursday from a prospecting expedition to the north of Monashoe, where they consider they have struck something rich in quartz.

Binders are at work on the grain in every part of the Okanagan country, and harvesting is being greatly helped by the splendid weather of the past two weeks. The crop appears to be fully up to last year's average.

At a sitting of Supreme Court Chambers before Judge Spinks sitting as local judge of the Supreme Court, Elizabeth Mitchell, upon the application of Mr. Cochrane, was appointed guardian of the persons and estates of the infant children of the late Robert Cowan Mitchell.

Messrs. W. T. Thompson, of Granite Creek, Geo. Atwood, an English mining expert, and E. D. Reynolds, mining broker, London, England, have gone down to the lower country. They are largely interested in the Tulameen hydraulic mines, near Granite Creek, which are now being successfully worked. While down south they will make a thorough examination of the Boundary Creek coal beds in the Kettle river valley which were staked off for the company last year by Mr. Thompson. They have acquired in all nearly 5000 acres, the entire coal field with the exception of one claim owned by the Spokane and Northern. The quality of the coal, of which several tests have been made both in England and the States, is pronounced excellent, 65 per cent. being carbon, 30 per cent. voluble matter and 5 per cent. ash. The coal bed lies in a broad, open valley, rendering work comparatively easy. It is the intention to push matters at once in anticipation of the ready market that promises to exist in the lower country mining camps.

Grass and bush fires have been doing considerable damage in the vicinity of Vernon. At one time the town and the wheat crops to the east where in danger of destruction, but about 40 men under Price Ellison after a hard fight managed to extinguish the flames.

The ceremony of the consecration of the new Episcopal church at Enderby was conducted by Rt. Rev. Bishop Sillitoe on Sunday last.

OKANAGAN MISSION.

Mr. Brigham, who was badly bitten by a rattlesnake on his ranch near the Penticton mountains, is able to get around again. He cut the bite out with a knife.

Nine hundred and sixty one feet of lumber was sawn out of one log at the mill last week.

Mr. F. Gillard intends putting up a shingle mill on his ranch.

Bear are plentiful in the swamp near Alcock's ranch. They make a raid on the Mission hogs once in a while.

The Presbyterian church at Benvoulin is all but completed, being now out of the hands of the plasterers. It is a very creditable building.

Mr. William Powers, the genial mail carrier, did some effective revolver practice the other day while riding down to Penticton from his ranch opposite Kelowna. Not far from Trepanier creek he saw a bear run up a tree and immediately halted and emptied six chambers of his 38-calibre bulldog into the quadruped's hide. Then, having no more cartridges with him, he got off his horse and sat under the tree waiting for the bear to drop, which it did about two hours after, stone dead. He sold the hide next day for $15.

FIFTEEN DECISIVE BATTLES.

Some of the Great Events Which Changed the Map of the World.

Baltimore American: According to Lord Creasy, the fifteen decisive battles were those at Marathon, September, 490 B.C., when Miltiades, with 10,000 Greeks, defeated 100,000 Persians under Datis and Artaphernes; at Syracuse, September, 413 B. C., a great naval battle took place, the Athenians under Nicias and Demosthenes being defeated with a loss of 40,000 killed and wounded of their entire fleet; at Arbela, October, 331 B.C., Alexander the Great overthrew Darius Codomanus for the third time; at Metaurus, 207 B.C., the consuls Livius and Nero cut to pieces Hasdrubal's army sent to reinforce Hannibal; Arminius, in 9 A.D., and the Germans overthrew the Romans under Varus and established the independence of Germany; at Chalons, 451 A. D., Actius and Therodria utterly defeated Attila and prevented Europe from devastation; at Tours, October, 732, Charles Martel overthrew the Saracens under Abderahmen and broke the Moslem yoke from Europe; at Hastings, in October, 1066, William of Normandy slew Harold II. and obtained England's throne; at Orleans, 1429, Joan of Arc secured the independence of France; the defeat of the Spanish Armada, 1588, destroyed the hopes of the Pope in England; the battle of Blenheim, August 13th, 1704, when Marlborough and Prince Eugene defeated Tallard, leading the French and the Bavarians, and thus preventing Louis XIV. from carrying out his schemes; at Pultowa, July, 1709, Czar Peter utterly defeated Charles XII. of Sweden, and established the Muscovite power; at Saratoga, October, 1777, General Gates defeated the British and General Burgoyne's and thus secured for the United States the alliance of France; at Valmy, September, 1792, the French Marshal Kellermangained the upper hand for the French revolutionists over the Duke of Brunswick and the allied armies; at Waterloo, June 18, 1815, Napoleon Bonaparte commanded the French and the Duke of Wellington the British and their allies, and the victory broke up Napoleon's revolutionary plans; two recent battles, not here included, are those at Gettysburg, July, 1863, and at Sedan, preparing, respectively, for the downfall of the Confederacy and the capture of Napoleon III and his army.

Captain Stairs and the Death of M'Siri.

The London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian reports the contents of one of the last letters written by the late Captain Stairs. The letter contains (he states) much fuller particulars of the death of M'Siri than the bare outline of events which have already been made public. Captain Stairs found on his arrival at Katanga that although Lieutenant Le Marmel and Captain Bia had each reached Bunkeia and had opened up relations with M'Siri, they had neither of them succeeded in inducing the king to allow the hoisting of the flag of the Congo Free State. Everywhere Stairs heard of the atrocities committed by M'Siri, who kept the natives in a state of constant terror. It was no uncommon thing for the old man to have half a dozen men slaughtered in his presence for apparently no other purpose than the satisfaction of his lust for blood. Stairs in a three-hours' interview remonstrated with M'Siri on such conduct, and told him that in future he would not be allowed to slaughter his subjects indiscriminately. At length, after much talk, in which there was a good deal of plain speaking, M'Siri agreed to accept the State flag and to make blood brotherhood with Stairs. As already reported M'Siri failed to keep his appointment for the ceremony, and Stairs sent Captain Bodson with a hundred men to demand an explanation. M'Siri had removed from his usual place of residence to a kraal half an hour's journey distant. He received Captain Bodson with extreme insolence, and told him that if Stairs wished to see him he must come to see him, but he would not go to Stairs. Captain Bodson insisted on his keeping his appointment, whereupon M'Siri gave an order to his men, who pointed their guns at Bodson and his companions, and at the same moment drew his sword. Bodson at once shot the King dead with his revolver, and at the same moment received a bullet in the stomach, from which he died a few hours afterwards. There was a short but sharp fight. Some men were killed on both sides, and then M'Siri's warriors fled. For a few days the country was in a disturbed state; but peace was ultimately made, and when Stairs left the country was quiet, and there was a general sense of satisfaction that the tyranny of M'Siri had been broken.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

THERE is a sadness as well as interest in noting the landmarks of the past. The sepulchres of the dead—many of them perhaps evil and vicious as well as the good and great—are fraught with tender recollections and grave reflections. Those who have helped to make history and whose names are a synonym for some great deed, will always be surrounded with a halo of reverent admiration. Similarly we regard those who have been the early settlers of a province or city, and listen to their tales of early struggles and triumphs with real interest. The old-timers—often accused of, and sometimes rightly so, of mossbackism—are nevertheless those whose sturdy perseverance has made Victoria and British Columbia what they are to-day. Talking yesterday to two gentlemen who settled here in the early fifties, and listening to the checquered experience through which they passed, I could not withhold a genuine feeling of respectful awe as I heard of their early vicissitudes. Yet, one by one they are passing away. The secretary of the Pioneer Society said that their numbers are gradually becoming less. The muster roll is lessening, and but a few years must pass before "The last man" must stand on the shore of "Pioneer" time and weep over the relics of the past. May those who succeed to the splendid heritage they leave be truly worthy of their inheritance.

I cannot help thinking that Dr. Ernest Hall has taken a step in philanthropy which should find imitators in the medical world. If every medical gentlemen were to set aside one evening per week for the treatment of poor patients, it would be hailed with gratitude by many. And I do not think this would serve to pauperize, as out few would seek medical relief gratis except they were in real want and could not afford the fees. Probably also it would enable physicians to maintain their scale of fees—which competition is likely to tend toward lessening—for there would be no excuse for any to seek lower prices if they could be served free. Go ahead, Dr. Hall, I am saving up my next attack for your next Tuesday and Friday seance. QUIZ.

IN RE COMPULSION.

"Man, proud man,
"Drest in a little brief authority."—Shakespeare.

TO THE EDITOR:—I notice from a letter in your columns that the public are no longer satisfied with assertions more or less dogmatic, and that proofs are now being called for. The provincial health officer no doubt has authorities and precedents for his proceedings, but as he appears to be somewhat bashful about referring to them, I shall take the liberty of quoting one for him, although it is but right to say that I have not asked his permission.

I understand from a medical friend that Dr. Davie relies for such authority as there may be for his methods almost entirely upon so-called precedents at Leicester, England, where, so it is asserted, compulsory isolation of patients and compulsory re-vaccination of all who have been exposed to the disease have made the city practically proof against smallpox. A controversy has raged for years over this, and the air has been thick with assertions and denials, but I will not take up your time by referring to it further than to point out that the only powers the authorities possess in Leicester, or anywhere else in England, are derived from the Public Health Act of 1875, which provides for a person who is suffering from an infectious disorder, and who "is without proper lodging and accommodation," being moved to a suitable hospital, and that they have no power whatever to re-vaccinate without consent of the individual. Furthermore, they never have re-vaccinated without such consent. My authorities are the Public Health Act itself and a signed statement emanating from the corporation of Leicester, dated Oct. 12, 1887.

From this it will be seen that, while Dr. Davie's methods may be considered excellent or not in themselves, according to the bias of the observer, there is not only absolutely no precedent in Leicester for compulsory removal of patients who already have "proper lodging and accommodation" and for compulsory re-vaccination of any one, suspects or no, but no power to enforce either is given to the authorities, who have to rely wholly upon persuasion, when it is considered necessary to interfere at all with the patient, his family and the medical man in attendance.

It may fairly be asked, what are the methods adopted at Leicester in the event of an outbreak of smallpox? They are briefly: Sanitation, such isolation as is found practicable, and the careful disinfection of rooms, bedding and clothing. With these the corporation are of the opinion, and it has been amply borne out by their experience, that any epidemic of smallpox may be successfully dealt with, without the aid of vaccination.

In this country we are supposed to enjoy more freedom than in England, and possibly we did up to the beginning of last month. Since then, however, nous avon change tout cela, and we have been made acquainted with so much of the blessings of fraternal government as must make thinking men tremble for the liberty of the subject. CYNICUS.

DR. WATT'S AUTHORITY.

TO THE EDITOR.—The bungling of the provincial health authorities is indeed astounding. In your issue of Thursday a letter appears from Dr. Watt (medical inspector appointed by the provincial authorities) on "His Side of the Question," in answer to Mr. W. C. Pope. I wish to call the attention of the health authorities and the public to a very important statement made by Dr. Watt therein. He says: "But people who I knew were only going into the country for the day have been allowed to go without interference." The regulation published by Dr. Davie (under the Royal Arms) is explicit. It reads: "All persons leaving the city by train or boat will have to produce a certificate of vaccination, for examination by Dr. Watt, medical inspector, or show marks of recent vaccination, otherwise they will have to submit to vaccination before leaving, or they will be treated as suspects." Do the officials understand their own laws? Now, if Dr. Davie's published regulation has the authority of law, then Dr. Watt, according to his own statement has deliberately ignored it. The regulation says nothing about time or distance, it is simply, "All persons leaving the city by train." Who is Dr. Watt that he may say how far I may go by train or how far I may not go, without submitting to vaccination? What right has an employee of the Provincial authorities to say that I may go to Esquimalt or Golstream without being subject to the law, but not to Chemainus or Nanaimo? It is indeed a state of anarchy. On the one hand the most cherished rights of citizenship are ignored. Homes are broken up, sick men are dragged from their houses to die from exposure, and on the other a petty official breaks the law with impunity, or administers it according to his own ideas. Great Scot!! But I refrain—it is simply a corrupt mass of ignorance, and "the more you stir it the more it smells."

Progressive Commerce.

Spot cash is the order of the day. We want money to carry on our large and increasing business. To get this money we have reduced prices for the vast stock we hold to an alarming extent. The immense reductions made would form a good capital for a small firm. Thirty to fifty per cent. discount on $150,000 worth of stock is one of the boldest things attempted yet in the province. Yet we are doing it for these reasons: We are buying enormously, paying promptly for our goods, wish to increase our connection and build up the biggest trade in B. C. Our sale commenced on Monday, and is forging ahead. Ladies, you want a bedroom, parlor, or drawing room suite, or one of our lovely sideboards, or a comfortable, artistic chair, or a bright and pretty carpet, or many things in crockery, glassware, lamps and cutlery. Sehl-Hastie-Erskine, 66 and 68 Government street, will sell them to you at far less than auction prices. *

Reduced Rates.

The fare on the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays will be $1.50 from Victoria to Shawnigan Lake and return, and 75 cents from Victoria to Goldstream and return. *

DOMINION LACROSSE MEETING.

Winnipeg Proposes to Hold a Grand Tournament Open to all Teams.

The Rifle Team to Represent the Province at Ottawa Chosen This Morning.

LACROSSE.

DOMINION TOURNAMENT.

The Winnipeg Street Railway Company are trying to arrange a lacrosse tournament, at which the teams of the east and west, as well as those of the prairie, may meet and strive for honors. It has been suggested that a picked team from the coast cities meet one of the eastern teams on the first day; then allow the Winnipegs and an eastern team to tussle on the second day and on the third day the Winnipegs and the coast men to try conclusions. It is the intention of the street railway company to put up a Dominion trophy valued at $500, to become the property of the club holding it for three seasons. The promoters of the tournament offer to provide return tickets for a picked coast team of not more than 15 players, but the boys will have to stand their other expenses. The clubs of the B. C. Association will no doubt consider the proposition and decide on what action they will take with regard to this proposed tournament.

TO SEE TO-DAY'S MATCH.

A large crowd went out to the Caledonia Park this afternoon to witness the Championship lacrosse match between the Vancouver and the Victoria teams. The Vancouvers left the terminal city at 7:30 this morning by the Comox and did not arrive until 3 o'clock.

THE GUN.

THE SHOOTING SEASON.

To THE EDITOR:—The sportsmen of Victoria are in trouble. May they still look forward to September 1st as the happy day on which they may throw away care and shoulder their guns for a day's sport, or must they wait 24 long hours more. The act prohibits shooting game until Sept. 1st, inclusive. Would the Attorney-General kindly set our minds at rest and oblige many others. A SPORTSMAN.

Victoria, Aug. 11, 1892.

THE OAR.

THE VANCOUVER REGATTA.

The principal event at the international aquatic meeting at Vancouver yesterday afternoon, the junior four-oared race, was won by the Burrard Inlet crew in 10:45, under very unfavorable conditions. The race was rowed in the evening and the course was swept by a cutting, gusty wind, a choppy sea and a strong adverse tide, while the invariable accompaniment of everything at Vancouver, rain, fell in torrents. The distance was a mile and a half straight. The competitors were the Burrard Inlet, Vancouver, Portland and Willamette representative junior crews. The winners had trained very hard for the race and by all the spectators was adjudged as having deserved their victory. In the junior single scull race A. Henderson, of the Burrard Inlet Club, won in 11.57. His competitors were Captain Sharp, of Portland, and W. B. Goodwin, of Seattle. The Americans made a surprisingly poor showing, although the horrible condition of the course and the weather excused everything. To-day the senior four-oared races, in which the Vancouver Club expect to win with comparative ease, and the senior single sculls will be rowed.

WHEELING.

The following were the results of the bicycle races at Vancouver:

Two miles, best-and best wheels—1, H. E. Potter (scratch); 2, John Hood (300 yards). Time, 6:35.

One mile, solid tires—1, J. Laurenceson (scratch); 2, J. Pugh (125 yards). Time, 3 minutes.

One mile, cushion tires—1, Charles Miln (75 yards); 2, Geo. Emanuels (125 yards). Time, 3:08.

Five miles, solid tires—1, H. E. Potter; 2, J. Laurenceson. Time, 17:55.

THE RING.

JOHN L.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—William Harrison, president of the Pacific Club, has received a letter from John L. Sullivan, in which the champion says he is working harder than he ever did in his life to get in condition. He predicts the fight will be at least many rounds.

PEDESTRIANISM.

Tom Watson, of Victoria, captured all the long distance professional races at Vancouver on Thursday. The following were the results:

One mile, professional—1, T. Watson; 2, H. Reeve. Time, 4:52.

Quarter-mile, professional—1, Tom Watson; 2, H. Reeve. Time, 0:55.

One hundred yards, amateur—1, H. McGregor; 2, B. Whitney. Time, 11¼.

One mile, amateur—1, J. Boacher; 2, C. Stewart. Time, 5:06.
